The Military Religious Freedom Foundation is dedicated to ensuring that all members of the United States Armed Forces fully receive the constitutional guarantees of religious freedom to which they and all Americans are entitled by virtue of the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment. That's their mission statement, and they fulfill it masterfully. But they do more than that.

As the proud parent of two sons, one daughter, and two granddaughters, how can I support MRFF. The MRFF will show you what you, and our troops, are supporting MRFF. The MRFF defends against the threats to our troops by overzealous, religious establishments, and sometimes day – goes by that I don't see an email update about.

I've been lucky, financially, and I've tried to give back to society by donating to charitable causes and non-profit organizations. The MRFF in particular has been an organization that I've supported for many years. They work tirelessly to defend the religious freedom of our military personnel and their families.

I'm appalled by you attacking the kid for doing something good. Who cares if he raised private donations for a memorial to honor military veterans. Michael Carlson's monument is not unconstitutional or illegal. You and your Leftist butt-buddies don't get to say shit about what's and isn't unconstitutional. You and your buddy groups are the ones who violate the constitution and break laws.

The obviously and incontrovertibly sectarian, religious freedom to which they and all Americans are entitled by virtue of the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment. That's their mission statement, and they fulfill it masterfully. But they do more than that.

Official military publications must not foment racism against any ethnicity or bigotry against any faith.
